Sophisticated beauty and style don't have to be compromised by cutting-edge technology when it comes to the kitchen of tomorrow. With the recent trend towards "smart appliances," many homeowners seek custom kitchen designs that elegantly blend classic lines with modern appliances, complete with their infusion of state-of-the-art technology. Lori Platte of Concept 32 Designs Custom Cabinetry knows a thing or two about creating a custom kitchen design that is both visually appealing and on-trend with the mind-blowing advances that have been made in kitchen appliance technology. Platte, along with builder Josh O'Quell of Bonsai Design Build, used Signature Kitchen Suite exclusively in their concept kitchen inside a new build in Denver, and the effect is nothing short of breathtaking.

The modern feel of the kitchen is accomplished with the minimalist efficiency of its design. Dark, monochromatic cabinetry is juxtaposed by a healthy infusion of ample amounts of natural light, courtesy of a large window on the south wall of the kitchen. The focus on “daylighting” as the main source of light for the kitchen speaks to the stark, austere beauty of the space, keeping the primary focus on the clean lines and natural-looking materials incorporated into the design scheme. Low-profile, brushed nickel finger pulls on each cabinet complete the less-is-more feel of the kitchen and harmoniously blend with the overall sense of order and functionality that reigns supreme. Gorgeous light gray granite countertops and a light, natural brick backsplash set the dark cabinetry off to perfection and further project the image of elegance through simplicity that dominates the space.

And then, of course, there are the appliances.

Signature Kitchen Suite, a line known for being as technologically advanced as it is visually stunning, harmoniously and effortlessly blends cutting-edge engineering with astoundingly beautiful design, resulting in products that are both highly advanced and classically elegant.

Signature Kitchen Suite, a line known for being as technologically advanced as it is visually stunning, harmoniously and effortlessly blends cutting-edge engineering with astoundingly beautiful design, resulting in products that are both highly advanced and classically elegant. The Signature Kitchen Suite appliances that were incorporated in this kitchen design- including a refrigerator/freezer, wall oven, microwave, cooktop and dishwasher- meld with the cabinetry and design elements of the kitchen as if they grew there organically. The classic stainless steel finish of the appliances is a perfect fit for the dark cabinetry and light countertops and backsplash, and the finishing touch to a custom kitchen that is magnificent in its modern, minimalist splendor.

Existing at the crossroads of elegance and functionality, this custom kitchen by Concept 32 Designs and Bonsai Design is a shining example of what can be accomplished with the fusion of natural and man-made elements, and the beauty and style that can be achieved with a clean, minimalist approach. This custom design is truly a glimpse into the future for kitchens, and architecture in general.
